DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kerver (US 6,088,618) in view of Bevan (US 5,792,206).

Kerver discloses a programmer that is capable of modifying different control functions for a family of pacemaker types. The manual for each type of pacemaker is also loaded into memory. It is inherent at least a model name and model number, and NBG code are described in the manual for each type of pacemaker.

Bevan discloses a programmer having a memory that is updated to reflect the types of families of implantable cardiac devices for which the programmer communicates.

One of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to include the features of Bevan in a first module in the device of Kerver and to access the first module to allow a second module having the features of Kerver to correspond to a selected family of pacemakers because Kerver teaches unit 114 contains suitable memory for storing a plurality of software programs. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a first module and a plurality of second modules to facilitate programming and manufacturing of function specific modules.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 3/5/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The statement that Kerver describes a programmer that is operable to update software for a single family of pacemaker types is without merit. Kerver teaches the programmer can program Types 1-3 and 5. Kerver does describe maintaining or updating a plurality of product families of cardiac rhythm management system devices. See col. 6, lines 47-48.

In response to applicant's argument that Bevan is nonanalogous art, it has been held that a prior art reference must either be in the field of applicant's endeavor or, if not, then be reasonably pertinent to the particular problem with which the applicant was concerned, in order to be relied upon as a basis for rejection of the claimed invention. See In re Oetiker, 977 F.2d 1443, 24 USPQ2d 1443 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, Bevan is a reference that is in the field of applicant's endeavor.
